The Principals' Words

Years from now, I hope you will look back on your years at Abington High School with fondness and great pride. You leave a legacy of excellence in the classroom, on stage, on the playing fields and of impressive service in the community. Most importantly, you will be known for your leadership as individuals and as a class. Because of this, you have brought more honors to this school and have been powerful role models for underclassmen. You will always have a special place in my memories. Thank you for all that you have given to this school and community.

Kathleen Dowling

Principal: June 1995 - October 2005

To the class of 2006,

You hold a rather significant place in my professional life. The class of 2006 was my last sophomore World History II class, the last class that I taught for the full school year, and your graduation marks my twentieth year at Abington High School. I will fondly remember you as caring, enthusiastic, hard-working and intelligent students. Your class has brought leadership and compassion to a new level among our student body. You have collectively raised the bar and set standards of goodwill and leadership that will be difficult for those classes that follow you to maintain. I know I will think of you often and reflect upon the fond memories we share of your years here at AHS. It was truly my pleasure to teach you and to know you. I leave you with a thought from William Jennings Bryan, "Destiny is not a matter of chance, It is a matter of choice." Best of Luck as you make infinite choices.

Teresa Sullivan

Principal: November 2005-

The Class of 2006

Student Life

Our lives at Abington High School encompassed far more than academics. We, as active members of a school community, were filled with energy and spirit, unrivaled by any class before us or to come. From our homes to our workplaces, from junior prom to pep rally, our enthusiasm for life never waned nor did our Green Wave Pride. The waves we have made as students beyond the classroom will not be forgotten, for they represent who we were and what we want to become.

Spirit Week

Spirit Week, a longstanding tradition at Abington High School, was a time in which the student body came together to display their school spirit in preparation for the Homecoming football game. This year's themes included Blast From the Past Day, Would You Still Be My Friend if I Wore This? Day, Halloween Day and Greenwave

Pride Day. Cliff Murray and Becca Keohane hosted the pep rally, with some help from Mrs. Dowling, dressed as the Greenwave, who saved the day by defeating the merciless monkey with the power of potassium. The week's festivities culminated in an impressive come-from-behind win by the football team over league rival, Norwell

Painted in Pride

"All the seniors cheering and yelling 'bow down'" said Steve Golbranson when asked what the most memorable aspect of spirit week was. Few will forget the amount of green paint present on Spirit day of our Senior Year. Steve, Shawna, and Kira were like many seniors who covered themselves in our school colors to show their pride.

Senior girls raced against the clock to decorate the gym for pep rally.

Junior Prom

On May 6, 2005, over 100 members of the class of 2006 were dismissed from school early to get their hair, nails, and make-up done, or just relax before the big night. When the students arrived at the gym, they walked through a gazebo into their once familiar gymnasium now draped in flowers, stars, and viney, setting the theme for the evening. From the school, we traveled in style in our limos, party buses, and cars to the Saphire Manor in Sharon to have a good meal, spend time with our friends, and get down on the packed dance floor.

Dan Bristol, the envy of all at the prom, shares a dance with Mrs. Kitterick.

Mike Alves, Lynn Mione, Maura Collins, Cliff Murray and Jenny Tighe don't wanna be a duck or a chicken.

Steve Golbranson gets down with his bad self.

Lizzy Moseley looks "Wonderful Tonight" (the 2006 prom song).

Travis tries to capture the experience with Sirena .

Leah DiMartino, Meghan Martin, Shawna McAuliffe, and Michelle Donovan love being cupcakes.

Pass the Napkin

What's your most memorable prom moment?

Kerry Walsh

"My most memorable prom moment was definitely how hot I looked."

Katie Snyder

"Prom was a good time because honestly, it was the first time I saw the Class of 2006 not all wearing scrubs."

Marc Spaulding, Jaclyn Fisher, Robbie Beatson, Stephanie Rust, Pat Ahern and Cliff Murray participate in the DJ's corny games.

Homecoming

Homecoming has always been the one dance of the year that is open for all classes to come and have a good time. In true class of 2006 fashion, we funded the most successful homecoming in recent years with over half of the school in attendance. Girls put on their formal dresses and guys snazzed up in their shirts and ties for a night filled with dancing, singing, and some class bonding. The night was kicked off with a group picture of all of the seniors in attendance, continued with constant DJ shout outs to the class of 2006, and ended with all the seniors dancing in the back of the gym, a symbol of our class togetherness. We'll be sure to remember Homecoming '05 as the beginning of our last year together.

Michelle Franey, Kacy Gillis, and Rebecca Keohane show their moves to the class in the royal court's circle.

Members of the senior class, Maura, Kyle, and Kacy dance the night away in the gym.

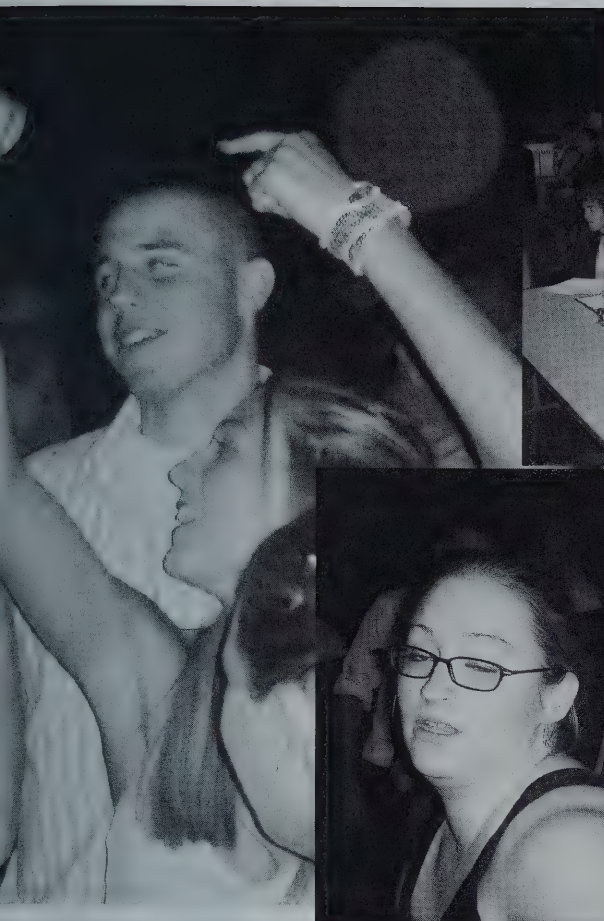

Whalen and Whelan share a dance at our last homecoming.

Lynn Mione and Brianna Dudley impress the crowd with their fancy footwork.

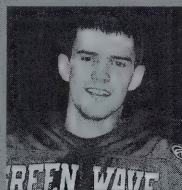

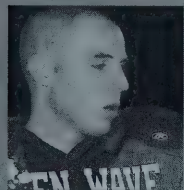

The class officers check everyone into the dance.

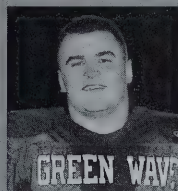

Amanda Ezzell gets down while Zach English and Rebecca Keohane display their overwhelming enthusiasm to be dancing with each other.

The Court

In senior advisory rooms throughout the school in early October, the class voted for five girls and boys for homecoming court. At the 2005 homecoming game, James Doucette and Sherri Mullin were announced King and Queen, as voted by their fellow classmates. The King's Court included football players Kyle Taylor, Marc Spaulding, Dan Carroll, Steve Golbranson.

Rebecca Keohane, Michelle Franey, Kacy Gillis, and Kelly Joyce all graced the Queen's Court with their presence.

The Humble Beginnings

Center School

Woodsdale School

North School

Center, Woodsdale, and North. Whichever school you spent your elementary days at, over the four years, you inevitably gained an intense amount of elementary school. Often times bragging about their own gymnasium and highest population of any of the three schools were the fine young children at Woodsdale. The Center schoolers were known to place their pride in their supposed superior playground. The students at North School may not have had their own gym or playground that they could actually play on, but when it came time for the three schools to meet at the annual field day, North had no problem dominating in all events. It is clear to the editors that North was, and forever shall be, the superior elementary school.

Mr. AHS

Our class has always been true leaders when it comes to pretty much anything; especially fundraising. The winter of 2006 saw births of new events at the high school, the main being the beloved Mr. AHS contest. Ten boys who believed that they embodied the true spirit of Abington High School confidently strut their stuff across the stage in both street wear and evening wear, and bravely showcased their skills in the talent portion of the show. Probably the most unforgettable moment came when all ten boys danced about the stage decked out in 80's workout gear all while being completely in step with one another in their choreographed fitness routine. This event was sponsored by the National Honor Society as a fundraiser for projects they would perform in the spring.

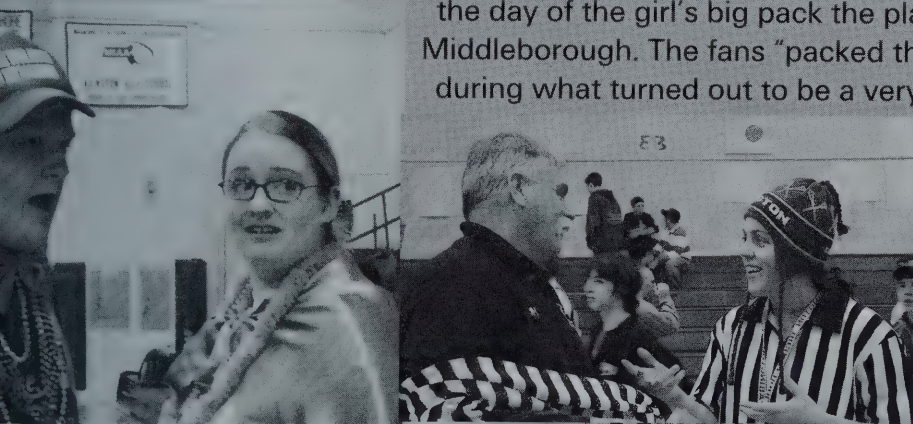

We must give credit where credit is due; Junior Alex Temple chugging maple syrup was absolutely amazing.

Winter Pep Rally

The Mr. AHS pageant wasn't the only new event to hit the high school during the winter of our senior year. The day following the big Mr. AHS experience was the very first winter pep rally and for the first time, a pep rally was honoring a team other than football; a girls team at that. The pep rally was held the day of the girl's big pack the place game against Middleborough. The fans "packed the place" to cheer on the girls during what turned out to be a very close game that kept those in attendance on the edge of their seats. The Lady Wave fought on but lost by only a few points in the last seconds of the game.

Sports

Whether it was displayed through league championships, trips to regional tournaments, or individual competitions held at the state level, the class of 2006 consistently exhibited the same dedication and skill in the athletic arena that we possessed in so many other areas. As freshmen, we cheered our football team to a super bowl championship only to be cheering them on to another victory as seniors. We watched as our softball team won their league title year after year and admired our basketball teams as they dominated South Shore League play. We, as members of the class of 2006, were a wave of athletic talent and sportsmanship that will live on through our school records and the banners which will proudly hang in the gymnasium for years to come.

Lisa McSharry makes a diving save during a home game senior year on the varsity field. As both a junior and senior Lisa saw ample time in the net.

The 2005 girls' soccer team capped off a streak of 22 consecutive winning seasons by reaching the quarterfinals of the Division 3 South Tournament. Led by Senior Captains Lynn Mione, Kacy Gillis, and Lauren Conway, the Wave managed a record of 10-7-1. After beating Tri-County in the first round of the tourney Abington suffered a tough loss to Norwell, but not before establishing the 2005 season as one of the most successful in years for the girls' soccer team.

Captain Lynn Mione battles off two Cohasset forwards in a challenging match-up during the 2005 season. Mione was named a South Shore League All Star as a junior during 2004.

Playing Tough

Despite a less than stellar record, the 2005 Boys' Varsity Soccer team proved to be resilient against an extremely challenging South Shore League. Senior Captains Lee Pepe and Mike Dougan led the team with Coach Keith Clarke at the helm. The Green Wave played tough and held their own in some extremely tight contests. Junior Captain Mike Caseley had a strong season and was selected as Abington's only representative to the All-Star team.

Along with both Captains, Senior Andrew Kiernan, and Junior Ed Campbell were named South Shore League All Stars. At the All Star match, Donavon claimed an impressive 2nd place with his individual score.

Going the Distance

The 2005 season was one of constant improvement for both the Boys' and Girls' teams. Despite being small in number, the Boys' squad, led by Coach Duggan and Captain Tim Whelan, showed great perseverance on their way to a 2-3 SSL record. The Girls' team proved to be a talented young group of runners under Coach Miller, and though the roster was void of any seniors, the team still managed a solid 2-3 record.

Senior Captain Tim Whelan braves the streets of Abington with teammates Mike O'Brien and Alex Snyder during a 2005 meet.

Tim Whelan Breaks Away From the Pack

Though 2005 was Tim's first season on the Cross Country team, he hit the ground running. He managed to cut more than 3 minutes off his times from the beginning of the season, running the final meet of the year in 17:19, coming in 12th out of 258 runners. Tim was elected a South Shore League All Star and was honored as a Patriot Ledger All Scholastic Athlete as well as an Enterprise All Scholastic Athlete. The Captain of the Boys' team turned in a very successful season, especially for a first-year runner.

Another Year, Another Win

The Class of 2006 began and ended their years at AHS as Champions. The Wave claimed their first ever Super Bowl title in 2002 and continued with three consecutive winning seasons, culminating in 2005 with a 9-7 regular season record, a League Title, and a Super Bowl victory in one of the most exciting contests in AHS history. Led by coach Jim Kelliher, who was inducted into the Massachusetts High School Coaching Hall of Fame in 2005, the Wave was able to navigate through a tough South Shore League and even tougher non-league opponents to establish a record worthy of a League Title and playoff birth. The 2005 Football season will surely be one to live on at AHS for many years to come.

The 2005 Abington Green Wave Varsity Football Team

The Class of 2006 will always be remembered as taking part in what are sure to become the golden years of AHS football, but it is the dramatic Super Bowl victory on the night of December 3, 2005 will live on as the defining moment for AHS athletics. The 21-20 defeat of Archbishop Williams was the championship game players and fans alike dream of, the kind of game that builds legacies. In the final minute of the fourth quarter, Archies was two inches from scoring, a nearly negligible distance on the gridiron, when Abington's defense held on three straight plays, forcing a chip shot field goal. Then the incredible happened- Abington's defense stormed through the line like an eponymous Green Wave and blocked the kick. With the senior-lead defense pulling off a miracle, the Wave was able to preserve a one point lead courtesy of a 25-yard Dan Carroll TD reception six minutes prior. As the clock expired on Abington's second Super Bowl victory in four years, the Class of 2006 was truly able to go out on top.

Shake Your Pom Poms!

The Abington High School Cheerleaders held a respectable reputation in the four years we inhabited the High School. From the first fall season in 2002 to the last winter season of 2006, the Cheerleaders earned six league titles out of a possible eight. Led by Captains Sam LaPierre and Junior Katie Corbett in the fall season of our senior year, the cheerleaders won 3rd place in the league and 2nd place at the Shepherd Hill Invitational Competition. That winter, the Cheerleaders reclaimed the league title with a roster of only ten girls.

Captain Matt Jones uses some tight stick handling as he moves towards the net. Matt played forward for the AEB team.

With the help of our East Bridgwater neighbors, the Abington boys of the AEB Hockey Team made their senior year one of the most successful. With Captain and Center Forward Matt Jones leading the team, Left Wing-Man Rob Beary, and Dan Sullivan keeping close guard of the net, the AEB Team finished 7-4-2 in the SSL and were seeded 10th in the 2005-2006 State Tournament where they faced off against Bourne.

Kings of the Court

The Boys' Basketball Team enjoyed a stream of success in their several years at AHS. Our junior year, the team was Co-Champs of the SSL with Norwell and made it to the South Shore Semi-Finals in the State Tournament. The following year, the boys finished 8-4 in the league and 14-8 overall. In the first round of the State Tournament, the Wave beat Hanover, and went up against Norwell for the second round of the tournament. The AHS boys faired even better in other tournaments during the 2005-2006 season, winning both the Keough Tournament and Greenwave Invitational Tournament. Our senior year however, seemed to be the year of the juniors with Captain Tim Wells and SSL All Stars Ronnie Dunn, James Kalianiotis, and Tim Wells.

Tim Whelan flew solo as the senior representative of the basketball team. T$ was a two year varsity member who played forward.

Junior Tom Martin stumps a Carver defender as he makes a move towards the hoop.

Junior Kyle Greenlaw takes a shot from outside the key.

Ronnie Dunn flanked by two defenders makes an attempt to get it up.

Captain Maura Collins stays tough as a Norwell player attempts to gain possession.

Senior Lisa McSharry goes up to win the tip off as Captain Michelle Franey looks on. As a forward, Lisa saw ample time on the court both as Junior and Senior.

Senior Emily Wakelin looks through a sea of Mashpee defenders to make a pass as Brianna Dudley hustles to open space.

Sharp Shooters

On the court, the girls of the graduating class of 2006 certainly proved their talent. Captains Lauren Conway, Michelle Franey, and Maura Collins led their peers to an 8-4 league record as Seniors. Lauren and Michelle were both dubbed South Shore League All Stars as Juniors and Seniors. Captain Maura Collins was the glue that kept the team together in 2006. She helped keep the team motivated, earning them second place in the SSL. Carver, the League Champions, suffered its only two losses to the Abington team in 2005-2006. But the graduating class of '06 was just as successful its Junior year winning the League Title with a 10-2 record.

Senior Kacy Gillis fights with all her might for possession at a 2005-2006 away game.

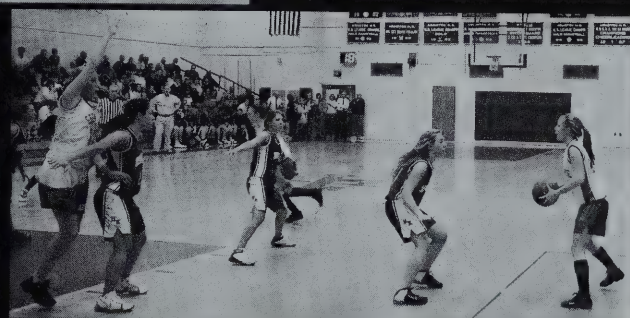

The Abington defense (Kacy, Sabrina, Lauren, and Michelle) stacks up against Norwell's Jackie Vickers.

Senior Amanda Ezzell under pressure from Mashpee defense, looks for Brianna to make the pass.

Lauren Conway uses her remarkable speed to dribble inside a Norwell defendant towards the hoop.

Dan Marini and Justin Jacoby, a two year track member, engage in a hand off during the 4x100 relay. At the league meet their Junior year, the 4x100 team placed 3rd.

As a junior, Dan qualified for the State meet in the long jump with a jumping distance of 20' 6". Justin also frequently ran the 100 and 200 meter races.

Ilan Fletcher makes his way down the last 100 meter stretch of the 800 meter race. Ian also ran the 1 mile and had hopes of bringing his time down to 6:00 by the end of the 2006 season.

Tim executes some footwork as he gets ready to throw the javelin. He placed fourth overall in the SSL for this event. Tim regularly placed in the high jump event as well as ran the first leg of the 4x400 with an impressive time of 0:58.

Born to Run

Dan Marini stretches his legs in attempt to improve his triple jump at a 2005 meet against Cohasset. Marini finished 1st in the triple jump at the 2005 league meet.

Tim Whelan runs the 800 meter race; he placed 3rd in the league in 2005 with his best time, 2:13.

In 2003 the freshmen members of the Boys' Track Team were whipped into shape with their first track workout. As freshmen and sophomores the AHS Boys' Track Team was a major threat to the SSL. As a Junior, Dan Marini was recognized as a SSL All Star. That same year the team finished fourth in the league. When it became our time to shine, with several years of experience under their belts, Senior Captains Tim Whelan and Dan Marini led their team to a successful season. As coaches came and went all four years including Mr. Hayes, Mr. Moore, Mr. Duggan, and Mr. Lanner, the track team remained dedicated and disciplined. The team will always be remembered most for their unrelenting support of each other and great spirit during practices and meets.

Katie speeds towards the high jump pit. In 2005 Katie jumped 5' 1" she placed second in the league for highjumping, fourth at the South Shore Principle's Meet and sixth at the state meet.

Jaclyn Fisher karokes down the field ready to launch her javelin. Jaclyn was also a long jumper for AHS, jumping 12' 5.5" against Cohasset in 2005.

Lynn Mione flies over a high hurdle during a 2005 meet. Lynn placed third in the high hurdles event at the 2005 South Shore League Meet.

Kaileen Powers displays her seasoned technique with the shot put. Kaileen bested herself in the shot put with a 23' 4" throw against Hull in 2005. Kaileen also did discus fielding, and threw 62' 8" at the same meet.

A Fielding Frenzy

Jamie Whalen sails over a low hurdle at a 2005 meet vs. Harwich. Jamie finished in 77.6 seconds.

Lynn jumps 14' 5" into the long jump pit at a meet against Carver. Her sophomore year Lynn was fifth in the league for long jumping and as a junior sixth in the league for triple jumping.

Katie Snyder in the "Set" position, gets ready to sprint 100 meters. Katie ran a 14.7 second 100 in 2005 at a meet against Cohasset. She also regularly ran the 200 meter race.

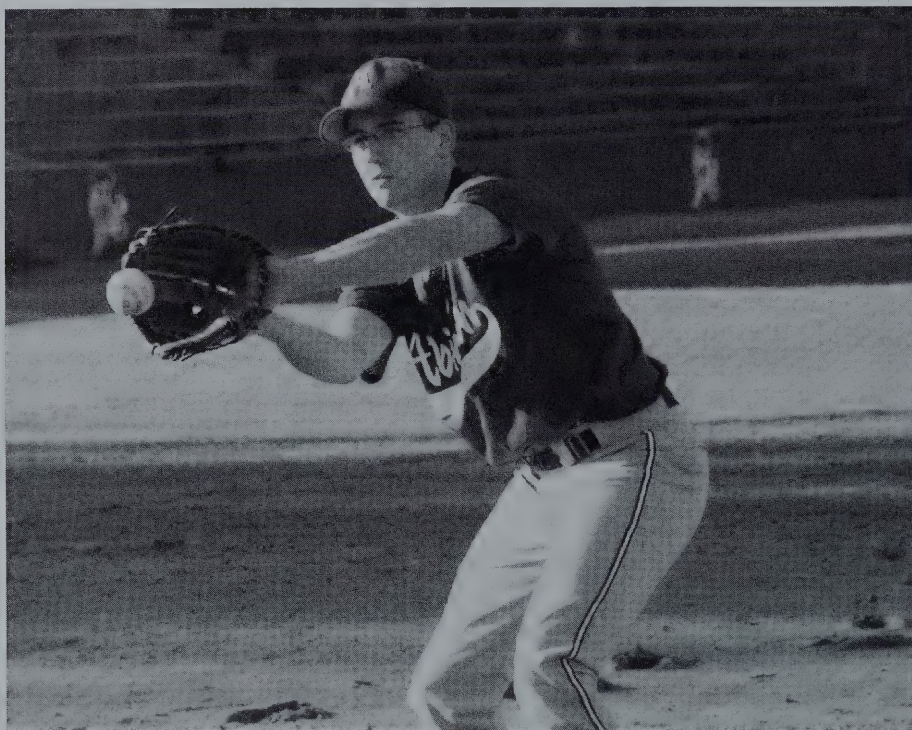

Jaclyn runs the 1 mile race. She began as a sprinter her freshman and sophomore years and as a junior ran the 300 meter hurdles. At a Mashpee meet, Jaclyn ran the hurdles in 60.6 seconds earning second place.

We Want a Pitcher...

Our senior year, the Greenwave Baseball Team boasted not one, not two, but three senior pitchers; Captains Steve Golbranson, Matt Jones, and Senior Pat Barry were all pitchers for the Wave. All four of our years at the High School, the baseball team qualified for the State Tournament. In 2005, the team finished 11-11 overall and 6-6 in the SSL. The team pushed to win their last four season games to qualify for the tournament, where they went on to win in the first round against Blue Hills and suffer a defeat to Harwich in the second round. Coach Perakslis and Captains Steve Golbranson, Matt Jones, and Tim Wells expected an even better 2006 season.

Captain Steve Golbranson winds up, ready to release one of his South Shore League renowned pitches. GoGo was noted for having one of the best left handed pitches in the league.

Captain Matt Jones makes a catch as third baseman in a pre-game warm up. Matt played two years for the AHS Varsity Baseball Team as both pitcher and third baseman.

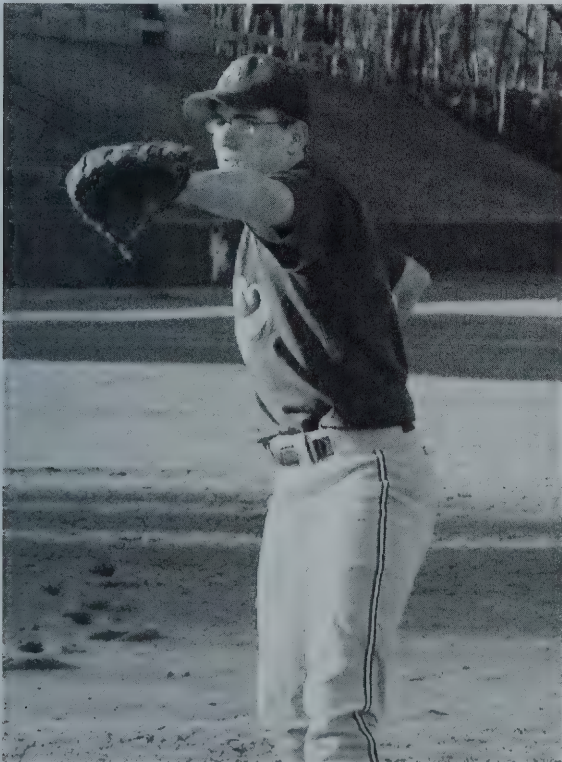

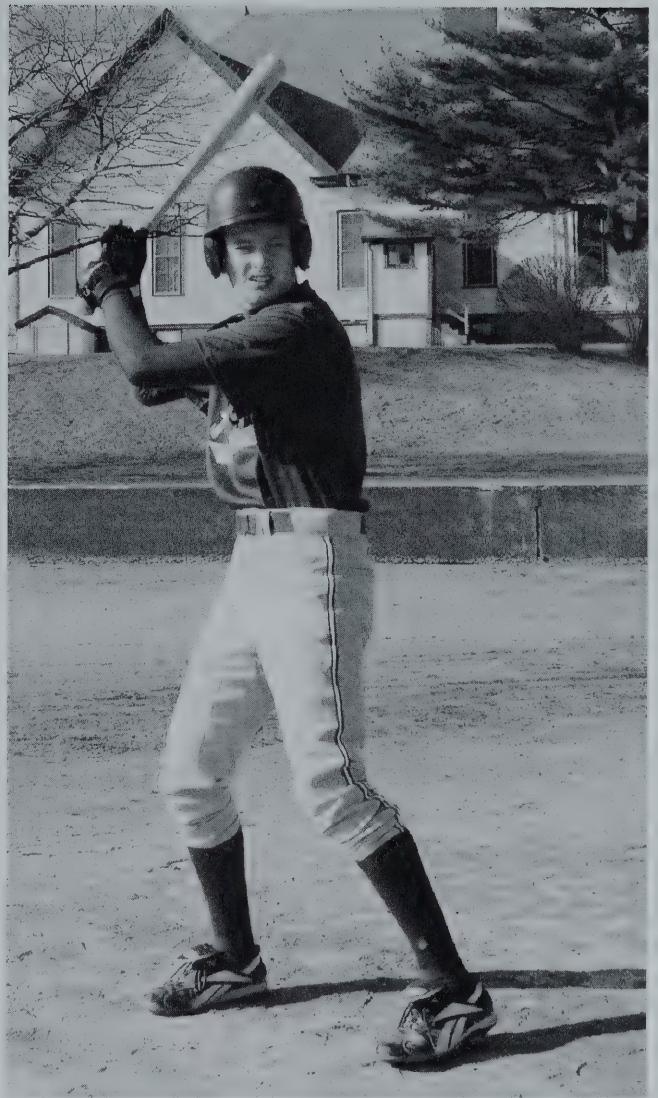

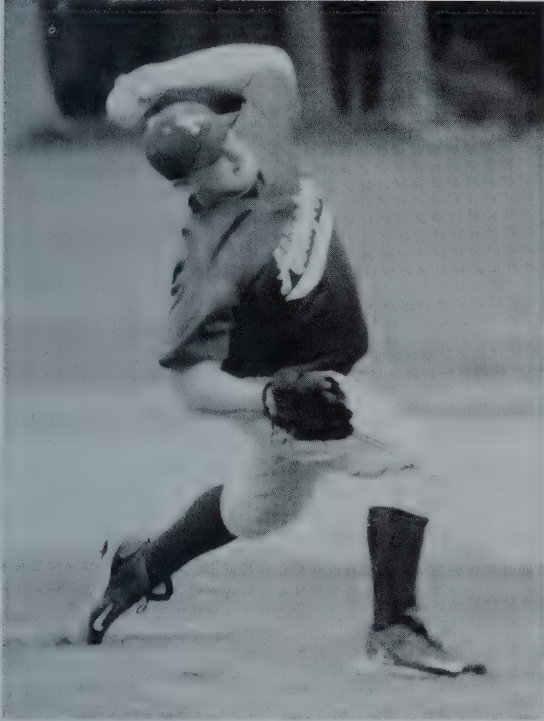

Pat Barry slides in to second base in a home game against Carver.

GoGo throws and releases on a pitch. He was 7-4 pitching up to his Senior year and was made a SSL All Star as a sophomore, his first of three years on varsity.

Swinging for the Fences

The 2005 Softball team held much promise. During their first three years, the Softball team had won the title of South Shore League Champions. The team also qualified for the state tournament in 2002, 2003, and 2005. The 2005 Varsity team boasted all four seniors as captains. Captains Michelle Franey and Lauren Conway played for the Varsity team all four years, while Captains Erin Foster and Courtney Foster played Varsity their sophomore year and were pulled up as freshman for the state tournament.

Lauren Conway gets ready to send the ball sailing into the outfield as her teammates look on.

Courtney Foster watches a hit as she makes a dash for second base.

Michelle Franey up to bat, awaits a pitch. The South Shore League honored Franey as an all star both her sophomore and junior year.

Franey runs for a double after sending the ball deep into left field. While on the team, Franey played second baseman and saw time as both pitcher and catcher. She took over the shortstop position for the 2005 season.

Erin runs in from right field to stop a grounder.

Courtney and her sister Erin consistently played the outfield for the AHS softball team. Courtney saw some pitching time during the 2005 spring season.

Lauren Conway makes a catch out in leftfield. She was a South Shore League All Star in 10th grade. Conway played leftfield her sophomore and junior year but moved to centerfield as a senior.

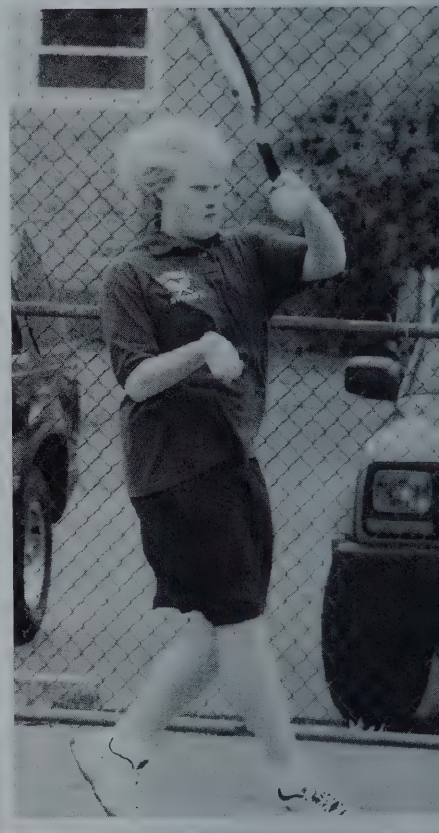

Seasons aren't measured in wins and losses, at least in the case of the Boys' Tennis team. Despite winning just one match in 2005, the team made great progress, lead by Captains Matt Ross and Cliff Murray. 2006 Captains Cliff Murray and Robbie Beatson anticipated a strong season for AHS Boys' Tennis for there was only one direction to move... up.

Captain Robbie Beatson sends a forehand down the line while Captain Cliff Murray unleashes a forehand during one of many three set matches which he was often forced to play.

Emily Wakelin keeps her eye on the ball during a 2005 doubles match. Emily, a four year veteran, was a strong net player due to her height.

Lindsey Mace looks to lob the ball over her opponents head in one of her many singles matches. Lindsey was known for her power strokes on the court.

Smashing...

The Girls' Tennis team had great success in 2005, qualifying for the tournament and posting their best record since 1976. Despite a first round loss to Dedham, it was an extremely successful season for the Wave. 2006 Captains Stephanie Rust, Lisa McSharry, and Lindsey Mace sought to improve on their 13-5 mark from the previous year and claim a South Shore League title for AHS. With the leadership of Coach Karen MacDonald and the four returning seniors, AHS Girls' Tennis was poised for success in 2006.

Captain Stephanie Rust sets up for a return in one of her many successful 2005 matches. Stephanie played first singles and was a captain for the AHS girls since sophomore year.

The Bonfire

One of the biggest displays of GWP for both AHS and the entire town is the annual bonfire held the night before the Thanksgiving Day football game against long time foes Whitman-Hanson. Hundreds brave the cold and come out to support the team on the eve of one of the biggest games of the year. The Class of '06 was witness to a surprising 3-1 record against the Panthers

"We're no woodland creatures. We are the Green Wave."

-Rebecca Keohane

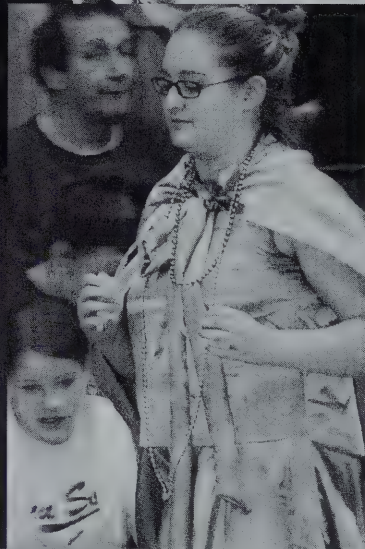

As fans of the Green Wave, the Class of 2006 had much to cheer about. Prolific years at AHS yielded more than a dozen South Shore League titles, 2 Super Bowl victories in as many trips and scores of broken records and team achievements. Green Wave fans were passionate and loyal, and always display consummate sportsmanship, win or lose. Fortunately, we saw more wins than losses, and the GWP never faltered. The fall of 2005 was our year to finally dominate the pep rally, and February of 2006 saw the first winter pep rally at AHS. Whether it was a sunny afternoon tailgate before the football game or the crowded and always supportive student section in the AHS gym, Green Wave Pride united our class throughout the fall, winter and spring year in and year out.

From dresses of green satin at pack the place... to student broadcasting at the basketball games...

...and from standing on our feet to cheer our teams on in the last minutes of a game...to braving the freezing autumn nights down at the Frolio... we Green Waves exemplified true school spirit.

Fan-Demonium!!

Activities and Organizations

Participate and volunteer are two words that we, as a class, took very seriously throughout our four years at Abington. From the start of our freshman year, we exemplified commitment and drive; we started new clubs and breathed life into those which were less popular. Whether it was raising money, painting scenery, or giving time to a needy cause, we approached everything with a desire to excel past the given expectations. The wave of dedication and leadership so many members of the class of '06 brought to extracurricular activities, off the playing field and out of the classroom, will be a lasting legacy at AHS.

Top Left: A portrait piece by Emily Parsons. Emily received numerous scholastic art medals, including both a gold key and honorable mention in painting her senior year, as well as a gold key for her portfolio.

Top Right: Kaileen Powers' landscape was one of many works she produced as a senior. Kaileen won a silver key in painting and a gold key for her portfolio senior year.

Bottom Right: Jimmy Hall's abstract portrait was one of many pieces which led to his gold key award for his portfolio. James also won a gold and two silver keys his senior year for painting.

A Wave of Service

The accumulation of community service hours by the members of the class of 2006 was truly remarkable. We participated in and ran community events such as Make a Difference Day and the Night of Nations hosted by the International and HYI clubs every year. Groups such as the Peer Leaders and National Honor Society walked for Hunger and the Old Colony Hospice, while the Interact club ran trick or treat for UNICEF and made frequent visits to soup kitchens. Every winter, the Holly Folly program encouraged students to donate to any number of causes with each group in the school having their own focus. Our spirit of service at Abington High School was unwavering, representing the care and concern we possessed for both our local and world communities.

Before members could light their traditional candles, the NHS pledge first had to be recited. "I pledge to uphold the high purposes of the National Honor Society, to which I have been elected. I will strive to maintain exemplary standards of scholarship, service, leadership, and character."

Just one of the many service projects members of the National Honor Society preformed over their Junior and Senior year was the Snowman Construction project at the December '05 meeting. Lindsey and Celina were responsible for gluing on heads while Robyn, Andrew, Jess and Rebecca drew on the faces. Ms. Short, in her last of ten years as the NHS advisor, shared some artistic advice with Lisa at the scarf station, helping with the production of 90 figurines in under an hour. These snowmen were then delivered to residents of the Old Colony Nursing Home by Jess, Sirena, and other NHS members.

"Tale as old as time"

From nerve racking auditions to tech week and the cast parties that followed, drama club was at all times an enjoyable activity at Abington High. Working under the direction of primarily Mr. Shannon, with featured directors Sara Barton and Ray O'Hara. The class of 2006 made their mark on the drama program, with the record breaking successes of Beauty and the Beast in the spring of 2005 and Clue in the fall of that same year. Whether we were chasing after Cinderella's carriage or going for a ride on the Wells Fargo Wagon those students who participated in the drama program simply new how to entertain an audience.

Be Our Guest was one of the most involved dance numbers in Beauty and The Beast featuring solo dancer, Lisa Adukonis. With a huge ensemble and elaborate costumes, this song brought the show to life.

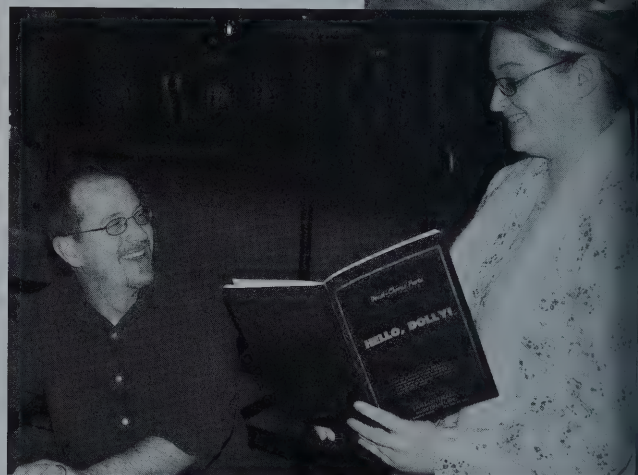

Posing in costume with director, Mr. Shannon, Seniors Rebecca Keohane and Cliff Murray are all smiles with fellow cast mates Matt Perry, Alex Hill, James Sheehan and Mike Adams.

Pastiche-A pasticcio of incongruous parts; a hodgepodge; the Show choir at Abington High School. As a competitive choir, we were never able to rival some of the greats like Panache (OA) and Pure Energy (New Bedford), but we made improvements and took away a lot of amazing memories. We fought and fundraised for new costumes, desperately wanting to rid ourselves of old red dresses and bowties for an emerald green look. While not being the most focused group of singers at our Tuesday and Thursday night practices, at competitions we always brought our pants-splitting pizzazz. Other memories include the scandalous bus rides back from competitions, our amazing choreographer Jen, and the great Mr. Mouth-napping of '06.

A Mysterious Season

Although the 2005-2006 Marching Band only performed at one night game, they still managed to pull off a successful season. Our senior year, the Marching Band performed a show with a spy theme. Led by Drum Major Chris Corcoran and Colorguard Captain Laura Marini the Marching Band put on an exciting show at the 2005 NESBA Competition earning themselves a gold medal. Their show included the "James Bond Theme," "For Your Eyes Only," "Live and Let Die," and the ever popular Austin Powers theme "Soul Bassa Nova."

Champions

The 2004-2005 Winterguard was crowned Class AA NESBA Champions. With their performance of Sarah Slean's "Lucky Star" the Winterguard managed to twirl their flags, rifles, and sabers to the top of their division. Hard work and three hour practices twice a week conducted by Mr. Markowski pushed the Winterguard to their 2005 Championship status. The 2005-2006 Winterguard was led by sole Senior and Captain Laura Marini in their performance of Shakira's "Ojos Así" which boasted intricate foot work along side the use of flags and rifles.

A Cosine Wave

The Abington High School math team was by no means state champions, but the one thing we did have was pride. The enthusiasm which members of the class of '06 brought to this club ensured its survival after extra credit was removed for participation, starting our sophomore year. Between our pimped out uniforms and our sheer math skill, we were able to have a few memorable victories; a second place finish Junior year at the Randolph meet accompanied by a rolling rally the next day at the high school, and a third place finish our Senior year over Archbishop Williams, Weymouth, and as always, Rockland. With guidance from our fearless leader, Mr. Markowski, our participation in the AHS math team is something that will not soon be forgotten.

WPI MATH MEET

Chris Corcoran, Lynn Mione, Cliff Murray, and Emily Wakelin, along with Mr Markowski, went to the WPI Math Meet on October 19. There were over 85 teams at the competition. Abington placed in the top 85!

Academics

It is without question that the true legacy of a high school class is acquired through the affect they possessed not on the soccer field or on the stage, but in the classroom. We, as a class, strived to achieve at the highest academic level. We took advantage of all academic opportunities, enrolling in online and college courses and participating in national achievement contests. We left a lasting impact on our teachers, wowing them with our creativity and academic prowess. The waves we have created in our educational experience at AHS were a result of a drive that so many of us held, and will continue to hold throughout a lifetime of learning.

English and History

English and history were two very popular subjects for members of the class of 2006. As Freshman, we were exposed to the ancient world with Ms Dwyer and participated in the first Abington High School poetry slam under the direction of Ms. Pflaumer. Sophomore year brought a game of cricket and an in school field trip to the PKS room to see a little Shakespeare. The American Revolution was a focal point for Mr. Scott's AP students while trench warfare came to life in another U.S. History class taught by Mr Hajian. Ms. McHugh spiced up English with the Hollywood classic, Smooth Talk, and Mr. Kent always found ways to integrate sports and literature. Senior year, many of us participated in electives such as Culture and Conflict with Mr. Lanner or Law with Mr. Moore, while Ms.Cuneo and Dr. G directed senior action research projects. We learned the art of written expression and the importance of being a world class citizen as a result of their participation in these two subject areas. However, we would have been nowhere without the inspiration of such greats as Ghandi, John Collins, and the one and only, John Proctor.

Ms. Murphy gets excited over Africa in her US History class.

The AHS Canon

Many memorable English class moments revolved around the books we read. Some of the titles are...

Freshman Year: My Antonia, The House on Mango Street, Romeo and Juliet, Of Mice and Men, Fallen Angels
 Sophomore Year: A Midsummer Night's Dream, Night, Fahrenheit 451, Antigone, Lord of the Flies
 Junior Year: American Childhood, The Scarlet Letter, The Crucible, Catcher in the Rye, Nine Stories, The Great Gatsby
 Senior Year: Hamlet, The Importance of Being Earnest, Death of a Salesman, Pygmalion, Frankenstein, The Bell Jar, Brave New World, The Stranger

First Day Routine

Everyone will always remember their first days back to school with a mix of excitement and anticipation. Those of us lucky enough to be a part of the Abington community are familiar with the specific characteristics of going back to school; If it is the beginning of September and kids from other towns are going back to school shopping, you've already been in school for about three days. If it is August 28, you are already looking forward to the first long weekend of the year- Labor Day. Of course as students of Abington High School, we never dreaded our early return, but rather arrived eager to be back at the place we loved so much.

The Offices

Whether it be going up to the office to get a tardy slip because you strolled into homeroom just as the second bell was ringing, or you were having a mental breakdown over college in the guidance department, the offices always possessed the ability to make us crack a smile. The class of 2006 consistently gained the respect of the administration through both a principal and vice principal transition; we were allowed to try new fundraisers and activities, creating new experiences for the entire student body at AHS. Looking back on our high school experience, it will be impossible to forget the ever endearing voice of Mrs. Kelliher or the always wrinkle-free attire of Mr. McGrath; memories of the time we spent outside of the classroom, yet still in the building.

Mrs. Potter stays at the school until the wee hours of the morning, ensuring that our college applications are all sent out on time.

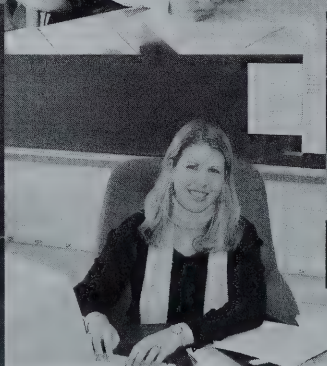

Ms. Sullivan wants YOU to be on honor roll.

Mr. Jackman reads over a note that passes by his desk.

Guidance Counselors: Ms. Ferioli, Mr. McGrath(Chair), Ms. Staneck

Ms. Posk, the school psychologist is always ready to lend a helping hand.

Ms. Chiasson, demonstrating her good humor, always knows how to make a trip to the nurse's office an enjoyable one.

Physical Education and

From the early years of learning the importance of a healthy diet to the later years of loading up the schedule with gym classes, our four years at the high school have been committed to the building of healthy habits. Many of us loved phys ed. and health with such a passion that we went above and beyond the health and gym requirements, taking electives and extra classes in both areas. courses. Some of the favorite health courses included Wellness I and II, and Child Development. None of us will ever be able to forget (as much as we may like to) the sound of that screeching baby startling you during a test or waking you in the middle of a deep slumber.

Meet Me in the Cafe

The Greenwave Cafe was a must during periods 1 and 2. Run by Ms. Keohane, with the help of Ms. Buckley, students were able to grab a McGreenwave sandwich on Mondays and Wednesdays to hold them over until lunch. Jess was one of many students who participated in the Greenwave market, a similar activity which offered teachers an elegant lunch option.

Bon Appétit

Our own favorite culinary classics.

Spicy Chicken always produced the longest lines in the cafeteria.

Lunch and Lockers

Time in the lunch room and at our lockers were breaks from our rigorous academic schedules. In the three minutes we had to pass between subjects, members of the class of '06 could communicate the latest gossip to the entire school usually by 3rd period. Lunches were another place where information was passed around while we attempted to scarf down our bagel pizza and milk in twenty minutes. There was the random food fight(sophomore year), the frequent bursts of applause, and the "I forgot my dessert, can I take another?" scheme which put pounds on so many of us.

Say What?

The Top 5 Things We've Heard Teachers Say

1. "I positively love my pussy cats and my pussy cats always come first" -Ms. Donovan
2. "Jackson, what are ya doin'?", "Double Zeros!" -Ms. Dwyer
3. "The -gui's and the -gue's need you" -Sra. Short
4. "Perimeter goes, 'round the outside, 'round the outside, 'round the outside" -Mr. Markowski
5. "Do we have a pass?" -Dr. Gonsalves

Math and Science

For the past four years, science fair has consumed level 1 science students' winter vacations while the enthusiastic members of the math team have dominated their meets (in spirit). Although our math and science classes proved to be some of the most challenging courses over our years at the high school, we still managed to have plenty of fun. Whether it be remembering to always wear your safety goggles when doing an experiment, or to change the batteries in the ol' TI-83; we will always keep math and science classes close to our hearts.

The Arts

Whether it was in visual or performing arts, it would be difficult to find a member of the class of '06 who did not participate in one of these areas. Concert Choir and Band, 5th and 7th period respectively, were popular classes where we could release the stress of the school day through our vocal or instrumental talents. For those of us with a more creative side, a sculpture or digital art class was the way to go. Our grade, with talented artists like Kaileen, Emily and Jimmy, won numerous scholastic art awards that displayed our skill in areas outside of pure academics. In visiting an art show at the Abington Public Library and going to a chorus and band concert in the winter or spring, one could see that the class of '06 was in with their artistic side.

Foreign Language and Business

The World Language and Business Departments provided many unique experiences to members of '06. From our first French and Spanish classes in 7th grade, to our freshman elective courses such as entrepreneurial studies, both areas gave students an escape from the basics of math, science, English and history.

Mr. Leavell always was integrating the business world and community, running programs that gave students real life business experience. Those few students on the French track will fondly remember singing in Madame Gillis's class while she pounded the Passé composé into our minds, or reviewing verb tenses with Madame Grabowski and the koosh ball. Those "Hispanohablantes" will never forget the days of Destinos with Señor Louis or the Movie Mondays, Music Wednesdays, and Food Fridays with Señora Short. In the end, nunca olvidaremos estas experiencias.

Maura, formerly known as Gustavo, anxiously awaits a game of Hollywood squares to review Spanish Poetry. Katie looks a little more nervous about the game.

El Aleph en la clase de Español

During our junior year, Mrs. Short's Spanish IV classes read Jorge Luis Borges' literary work "El Aleph" which explored a concept of all of the world, existing in peace and common understanding at one Utopian moment. Students in the class dressed as major figures from the races which the Spanish culture derived from. Despite the class' diversity on the day, everyone coexisted in perfect harmony with one another.

Lauren, 18 years has passed too quickly....seems like just yesterday a beautiful baby girl was placed in our arms. As we were to discover, a daughter like you is truly a treasured gift. You've amused us and brought great happiness and joy into our lives. Through every stage and every age, we LOVE YOU even more. You've always made us proud of the person you've been and the beautiful, responsible, young woman you've become. As you begin this next chapter, we are confident that you can accomplish ANYTHING, so set your goals and dreams high! Your chatter, laughter and daily presence will be greatly missed by us all. Congratulation-We wish luck, success and much happiness. Remember..."Home is where you're loved the most!!" We'll always be here for you. WE LOVE YOU! Mom and Dad XOXO

Lauren, Thanks for coming to all my games, even the early morning ones. I'm lucky to have such a good big sister. I will miss you so much when you go to college. I love you! Tim XO

The 2006 Green Years is a perfect example of its chosen theme, Making Waves. After years of creating yearbooks the old-fashioned way with collages and glue sticks, the class of '06 was first to conquer the digital revolution, creating the yearbook entirely via computer. Using the program Adobe Pagemaker 6.5, as well as numerous Herff Jones plug-ins, this huge transition was made to create a yearbook equal to our classes reputation, second to none.

From the cover, which was student designed, to each slide which was painstakingly organized and edited by the extremely small staff of six people, The Green Years 2006 is far more than a great yearbook; it is a piece of history which will forever document the waves which the class of 2006 made in their time at AHS. The dedication of the staff was truly remarkable with hundreds of hours spent on the book's completion. Lynn and Cliff even searched through the taco-filled, school dumpster for 2 hours in January to recover all the photographs and proofs that were accidentally thrown away.

The Yearbook was created over a period of 7 months, from September to March of our senior year. Thousands of photographs were taken by the staff for the books creation, as well as students had the opportunity to turn in photographs of their own. The book is 120 pages in length, 32 of which are in full color with a spot color front end sheet. Herff Jones printed the books in Gettysburg, PA and they were distributed to students at the end of May, as part of the senior week activities. The books final cost was approximately $100.00

'Congratulations to the Class of 2006

It has been a pleasure watching you go through school. You are a class of bright, funny, and exceptionally nice students. In fact, you are the best class ever to go through Abington High School! The years I spent as your school nurse and class advisor will truly be the funniest and most enjoyable memories of my career.

Thankyou for all that I have learned from each of you and the countless hours of laughter. As you embark on this wonderful adventure of life, remember you are all capable of great things. Take advantage of every opportunity and experience that life offers you. You'll never know what great surprises await you. Just always remember, drink plenty of water, take a daily vitamin, and remember me when you are rich and famous!!!

Wishing you all a life filled with love, happiness and good health!!

Linda and Bob Beatson

Oh ya, by the way, Robbie we are so proud of you. You did a great job in school. Thank you for being such a great son and you definitely better remember us when you are rich and famous!!!

Love Dad, Mom and Abbey
